

CAROLINE GRAY

Caroline Gray is an artist living and working in the UK. She specializes in earthenware sculpture and design objects, all finished with colorful terra sigillata. Her carefully balanced pieces celebrate color and form, creating an interplay between the objects themselves and the spaces they occupy.

With carefully cut slabs of clay, she splices and rejoins pieces to create soft curves and geometric forms that seem to balance carefully upon one another to form truly unique objects. Each piece is finished with an application of silky terra sigillata, a fine colored slip that gives added vibrance to everything she creates.
